IED recognition and defeat are critical skill sets which demand deliberate focus and emphasis when training to confront the largest threat on today's battlefield.

We design and manufacture static visual mock-ups and fully functional IED training devices. Functional devices include features such as sirens, LEDs, and any of our battlefield effects.

Our IED training aids do not contain any type of energetic or hazardous materials and can be configured to many different standards.

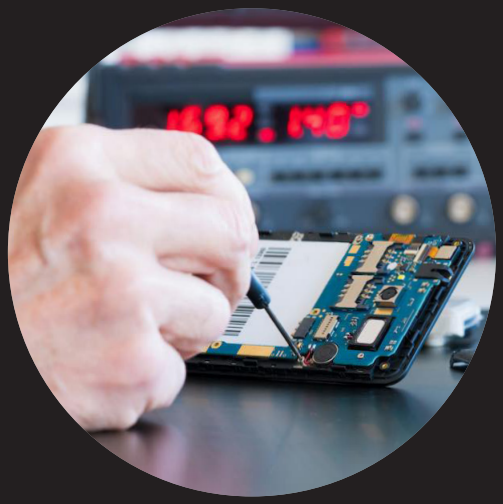

All of our inert IED training aids are produced to meet specific requirements and offer multiple levels of intended purpose. Devices range from static classroom mock-ups to x-ray correct devices, functional or reactive devices including wireless operation, or any combination of these features are available.

We are capable of producing custom IED training devices to incorporate any of the above mentioned features including new threats as they emerge. Contact us today to discuss your requirements, obtain price quotes or lead times for any custom project.

INERTPRODUCTS.COM

OUR PRODUCTS STAND OUT FROM THE REST. IEDS ARE AVAILABLE IN SEVERAL FORMATS.

Basic Device

These devices are visually correct only. Some components are interactive, however there is no associated penalty monitor to indicate the IED has been triggered.

Device w/ Siren

These devices operate similarly to the real IED, except there is a siren to indicate when the IED's firing device has been triggered.

The replica electric detonator's wire can be rendered safe to disable the siren, and is easily replaced at a low cost.

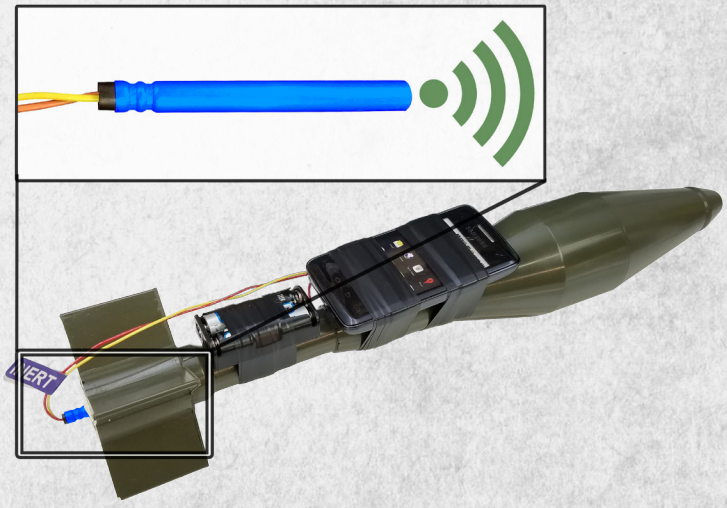

THE CAPABILITIES SHOWN BELOW CAN BE INTEGRATED INTO OUR TRAINING DEVICES:

Device w/ Wireless Transmitter

These devices also operate similarly to the real IED, except a wireless signal is transmitted via a unique, replica electrical blasting cap when the IED's firing device has been triggered.

The wireless transmitter does require a receiver (sold separately), and can be used to activate a range of penalty monitors such as blast simulators, LED lights, simulated scents, and more.

X-Ray Training Device

This version of the replica IED is designed for use with X-Ray systems.

Devices are constructed using explosives and components that will replicate the real device configuration.
